I am writing to you because I know that usually, once environmental damage occurs, it is lost to generations to come.

I am a retired Army Nurse, who served in the Pacific in WW II. I have read of the mining Companies who are defoliating and destroying sites in New Guinea and it makes me wonder, "Have we really brought progress to this ancient and beautiful land?"

So, it is with a sensitized outlook, that I am writing to you about the proposed gas pipeline which would go through Ct. and the Long Island Sound. The environmental damage to inland wetlands and the ecology of Long Island Sound will be forever damaged.

Please reconsider the pipeline's proposed location.

Progress does not necessarily come with Corporate Endeavors.

Most sincerely

Edith Baron
