COMMANDER NAVY REGION NORTHEAST

15 March 2006

Dear Mr. Neely,

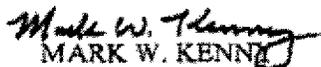

I am responding to Mr. Murray Sondergard's letter of February 10, 2006 concerning the Broadwater Energy Project proposed for Long Island Sound.

The Navy is aware of the application by Broadwater Energy to site a Liquefied Natural Gas (LNG) storage facility in Long Island Sound.

My staff at Naval Submarine Base New London, in Groton, Connecticut, has been working closely with the Captain Peter J. Boynton, who is the Captain of the Port and Sector Commander, and his staff who have the Department of Homeland Security lead. The Coast Guard has briefed us on the proposal and continues to keep us informed with respect to the project.

As the process moves forward, we will continue to work with Captain Boynton to represent and address our Navy interests.

Sincerely,

MARK W. KENNEDY
Rear Admiral, U.S. Navy
