Re: Broadwater

I have reviewed information about the proposal of a Broadwater Liquid Natural Gas terminal for the middle of the Long Island Sound. This bothers me on many levels!

As a longtime Long Island resident, I have seen the changes made in the name of technology that also ended up in cancer clusters, etc...

The Long Island Sound is a place for family and recreation, not oil tankers. I do not believe any tanker surrounded by security guards, etc..., blends in with the tranquil waters, and ambiance of the Long Island Sound. It will block entranceways for private boaters, fishermen, etc...it could ruin our local economy.

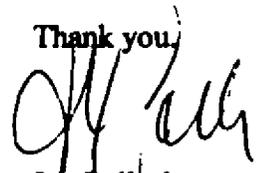

I am concerned for my family, my small grandchildren, that already have a hard enough time breathing our polluted air. What happens when there is a gas leak?

Inevitably, somehow we will be taxed for this down the road. This is a costly and risky endeavor that is just not needed in our local waterway.

This also sets a dangerous precedent of industrializing the Sound!

Please respond in writing, informing me of your position.

Thank you,

Joy Pollack
