Magalie R. Salas:

Forty years ago I began fishing and boating on Long Island Sound near Glen Island and Fort Slocum. Trolling up and down the sound snagging a bluefish and sometimes having to return it to the Sound because of its size. Wonderful memories. Now I only fish occasionally but I can tell you that the view is still magnificent and the beaches and parks are wonderful to visit during all seasons.

I strongly object to allowing a large corporation to close off a portion of the Sound that is used for fishing, boating, swimming, and just plain relaxing.
